FLYNN IS GIVEN A ROUSING FAREWELL AT "Y" MEETING

LARGE AUDIENCE CHEERS HIS WORK

Final Lecture is the Greatest of the Course and Is Closely Followed by the Audience

DEMAND FOR BOOKS HEAVY

Preparations Also Go Fast; Tokens Given Workers for Development of Health

The farewell given Prof. W. Earl Flynn, closing The Tribune's great health campaign at the Y. M. C. A. last evening, was in truth a fitting tribute to the man who is devoting himself to teaching the masses how to live to gain perfect health. It was one of the greatest lectures ever heard in La Crosse, and Prof. Flynn reserved nothing in his course. The audience was told and shown how to apply every exercise for the development of the body and the reaching of the vital organs and while the lecture continued from 8 o'clock sharp until after 11 o'clock the audience refused to allow Prof. Flynn to stop. When he asked the audience if they were tired and wanted him to stop—when his time was up—they clamored for more, and for another hour Mr. Flynn continued his instruction.

The audience was a most representative one and the attention given to Prof. Flynn during his entire lecture was one of the best demonstrations of the good will and enthusiasm of his hearers. Prof. Flynn "went the route" of his system, taking up each portion of the body and showing how to develop it, force the blood into the small unused capillaries and get the full life out of them. He showed how to develop the face and hair, the shoulders and bust, how to cure spinal curvature, how to expand the chest, how to walk and run, how to sit, how to reach the vital organs, for special ailments and how to exercise them to make them immune to disease and to perform their functions properly. Mr. Flynn laid considerable stress upon the abdominal breathing and called one of the large members of his class to the stage and had him stand upon his abdomen to show what strength should rest there. He easily tossed the gentleman, weighing more than 200 lbs. up and down by simply breathing.

Tokens of Esteem
Following the lecture Prof. Flynn thanked Rev. A. Lincoln Shute, pastor of the First M. E. church, for the great assistance he had been in the success of the campaign, and also members of his classes for their painstaking work. Miss Bosworth was also called to the stage and expressed her appreciation of the treatment which had been accorded to herself and Prof. Flynn while in the city and expressed the hope to again visit La Crosse at no distant date.

When Prof. Flynn was preparing his final announcements Rev. Shute who introduced Prof. Flynn and Miss Bosworth in their first and final appearance before the public, arose and presented to Miss Bosworth a handsome bunch of long stemmed roses from the members of her class. Prof. Flynn was presented with a token of esteem and Miss Bosworth also received a token which Rev. Shute said would remain to remind her of the esteem of her many friends in La Crosse after the roses had perished. These memorabilia were accepted both Prof. Flynn and Miss Bosworth.

Preparations Distributed
Coupons attached to the tickets entitled the holders to one of Mr. Flynn's three preparations, the hair tonic, shampoo and acid face cream, and there was a rush for these after the lecture. Many people purchased additional supplies of the preparations. Copies of Mr. Flynn's book, giving detailed instructions in the Flynn Vital Center System went fast and large piles of them dwindled under the demand from the audience as the people passed out of the auditorium.

Hundred Year Club Tonight
Tonight at 8:20, following the regular prayer meeting at the First M. E. church the Hundred Year Club will be formally organized. Rev. A. Lincoln Shute was named as temporary chairman at a meeting Monday evening, and it is expected that the good health organization will start off with a large membership.

GOVT. STRIKES AT BLACKHAND GANG

Mecca of Mafia at Marion Proves a Hornets' Nest of Murderous Italians

THREE ARRESTS ARE MADE

Postoffice Department Gets Evidence of Attempt to Extort $10,000 From Fruit Man

COLUMBUS, O., June 9.—When the postoffice inspectors, accompanied by their town marshal went to arrest Augustina Marfisi, a fruit dealer at Denison this morning on blackhand charges, he put up a fight and was shot by the marshal before he was captured.

MARION, O., June 8.—After unearthing what they declare to be the national headquarters of the blackhand, Postoffice Inspector J. F. O'Donnell, E. F. Hutchess and R. M. C. Hosford, all of Cincinnati, arrested here today Hamm Lima and Joe Rizzo and hope to get a brother of Lima

TO SLAY DETECTIVES
CHICAGO, June 9.—John D. Rockefeller is no more carefully guarded today than Ga-briel Longabardi, the Italian detective, who has done as much toward suppressing the "blackhand" in this country as did Petrosini, the New York martyr. The cause of these extra precautions is a letter that came to Longabardi this morning from Vincenzo Geraci, a prisoner awaiting trial here for attempted extortion. Geraci reveals a plot to kill the detective, and says it is part of the scheme to make way with Petrosini and Longabardi and an Italian detective of New Orleans, who was actively associated with the other two in running down black hand criminals. Longabardi once did Geraci's bidding and the latter says that this is what prompted his warning.

on black hand charges. The officers claim Marion is the headquarters of all the black hand societies in the country and the contents of the safe in the Rizzo store which was opened by the inspectors go to bear out their claim.

They show that hundreds of business men have been paying tribute to the gang. The arrests here followed the tracing down of letters in Denison. O. One of the men confessed and gave away the location of the central body here. One of the officers will leave for Belle Fontaine to round up a couple there and Inspector Oldfield states that when one more man is apprehended he will give out the entire history of the case whose ramifications extended from one side of the country to the other.

COLUMBUS, O., June 9.—The raid by the postoffice inspectors on a suspected "blackhand" headquarters at Marion, was only one result of the government's effort to stamp out the extortion which has been practiced in central Ohio upon wealthy Ohioans, Italians, by associations said to have been allied with the Mafia and with similar organizations in this country and in Italy. The Italians arrested yesterday in Marion were taken to Toledo today and will be prosecuted before the United States court for an alleged attempt to extort $10,000 from John and Charles Amicon, Columbus fruit dealers.

For months the Amicon brothers have received demands for the payment of the money and an effort was made last January to force its payment by threats of violence. A dynamite bomb was found in the yard in the rear of the home of John Amicon.

A large number of Columbus Italians are believed to have paid tribute to the gang. In some instances amounts ranging around $1,000 were secured but the victims refuse to confirm the report that they contributed through the fear of the Mafia's vengeance.

ENJOIN COUNCIL IF SPUR IS ALLOWED

Property Owners to Invoke Law to Prevent Running Rails Past Their Property

If the city council grants an ordinance giving the Green Bay and Western Railroad company permission to build a spur track to the proposed new Hackner Altar factory on Eighteenth and Perry streets, an injunction will be secured by the property owners whose property adjoins the streets where such a track will be built, on the grounds that it is illegal.

Attorneys Baldwin, Winters and Higbee represent the people in the case while P. W. Mahoney represents the Board of Trade which is fostering the proposition and are endeavoring to get the council to pass favorably on the matter. The ordinance was brought some time ago but was turned down.

At the last regular meeting of the Board of Trade resolutions were passed favoring the building of a spur track to Mr. Hackner's factory and it was agreed upon that the Board should bring influence to bear on the council to insure its passage.

The owner of the factory, Egid Hackner, claims that unless the railroad company is given permission to build the track to his factory he will move his plant to some other city. The industry which is rapidly becoming a large one employs in the neighborhood of 40 men.

With these arguments it is expected that the attorneys for the people and the attorneys for the Board of Trade will have an interesting session when the council meets Friday to decide upon the question.

Among the arguments that will be used against the building of the spur track will be that the city is spending $75,000 for park purposes and that the construction of a factory in one of the best residence districts with a railroad track running along one of the best streets in the city is entirely contrary to this policy and should not be permitted.

With the members of the council about every decision on the proposition about Friday night, extremely are favorable.

At Marion, the authorities secured two sacks of mail and a number of books which it is believed will aid the government materially in the prosecution of the cases against those arrested and lead to other arrests in this city and other parts of Ohio.

A confession said to have been made by one of the men arrested at Marion opened up new lines of work for the postoffice authorities.

GREAT EXCURSION WOODMAN PICNIC COMES TOMORROW

Weather Permitting Special Is Expected to Carry a Record Crowd to the Sister City

It's up to the weather man. Everything is ready for the great excursion to the Woodman Picnic at Sparta. Don't miss the Northwestern special at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

All is in readiness for the greatest excursion that has pulled out of La Crosse in years. The special train that leaves at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning from the Northwestern depot will carry a big crowd of local business men, the grocers and their families, and La Crosse people of all occupations. Interest in the event is general, and secretary Harry Taggart of the Merchants and Grocers associations is assured of a record attendance.

The business men of the city have contributed liberally to the expense entailed in the trip, and every possible arrangement for the accommodation and pleasure of the excursionists has been made.

Stops will be made at all the cities along the line, and delegations will board the special at every station, swelling the attendance.

A splendid program has been arranged, and Sparta business men are prepared to welcome their La Crosse guests in a royal fashion.

Remember, the train leaves the Northwestern depot at 9 o'clock.

SPANISH VETERANS ELECT DELEGATES

Casberg Camp, Spanish War Veterans last night elected C. J. Gilbertson and Dennis Mac Cauley delegates to the state encampment at Fond du Lac, July 4 and 5. Emil Last and A. B. Chandler were elected alternates. By virtue of having held office camp commanders and past commanders also are delegates. The camp did not instruct the delegates which city to favor for the 1910 encampment. Sheboygan, Janesville and Milwaukee are candidates. La Crosse entertained the encampment in 1905 and is not in the race this year.

"BOB" PICKS M'ELROY

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 9.—(Special.)—A Washington dispatch states that Senator Robert M. La Follette has settled on W. J. McElroy of this city as his choice for United States district attorney for the eastern district of Wisconsin, a successor to H. K. Butterfield whose term expired April 21.

SUIT FOR $5,000 AGAINST THE CITY

Parents of Helga Larson of the North Side Demand That Sum for Injury

Hit on the head by a cast iron ball, used by boys in "putting the shot" at the Ninth ward school, June 9, 1908, Helga Larson, the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Larson, 1453 Charles street, suffered a partial fracture of the skull and it is alleged that her injuries are permanent.

Notice was served yesterday upon City Clerk Joseph M. Siegel of the child's injuries, demanding damages in the sum of $5,000.

It is alleged in the complaint that the child was rendered unconscious by the blow and was carried into the school room, where the teacher allowed her to remain in an unconscious state, without calling a physician, from recess in the afternoon until after school was closed for the day, and that by reason of such negligence, the child has lost her memory, partially lost her eyesight and almost entirely lost her voice.

Her skull was partially crushed by the ball and an operation was necessary to remove the splinters of bone from the brain.

BOY KILLS OLDER AFFINITY AND SELF

CHICAGO, June 9.—Jacob Grofs-hopf, aged 19, "affinity" of Mrs. Sarah Eisner, almost old enough to be his mother, shot her dead and then killed himself.

"Go away," said Mrs. Eisner, who some time ago left her husband for the boy, but afterward tired of him "Go away. I don't want to talk to you."

"Oh, don't you?" replied Grofs-hopf. Then he pulled out his pistol and fired one bullet that pierced the woman's heart. He fled down the stairs but in the front vestibule paused and killed himself with two shots.

WAS GUGGENHEIM DIVORCE A FRAUD

CHICAGO, June 9.—The annulment of two marriages, the illegitimizing of several children and an attempt to have two prominent attorneys of Chicago disbarred from practice, may follow disclosures of an alleged fraud perpetrated on the courts of Illinois in obtaining Grace B. Guggenheim's divorce from Wm. B. Guggenheim, youngest of the seven rich brothers of smelter fame. The charge on which Judge Honore has ordered both Guggenheim and his former wife, now in New York, to show cause, is that Mrs. Guggenheim's decree was obtained by fraud and conspiracy, it being falsely represented that the woman was a resident of Chicago.

APPROPRIATIONS UP TO GOVERNOR

Assembly Passes Bills today—Chapple Bill Is Vetoed—Teachers' Pension Bill Is Passed

FISHING ON JUNE 1ST NOW

Assembly Passes Bill After Cutting Out May 25th Date at Request of G. A. R. Men

MADISON, Wis., June 9.—(Special.)—Appropriation bills covering nearly $100,000 were passed by the assembly this morning. The bills had already passed the senate and will now go to the governor for his signature. The largest appropriation was $1,215,000, for the current expenses and charitable and penal institutions of the state, and nearly $300,000 additional for repairs.

After a sharp fight the assembly passed the bill taking $80,000 out of the general fund of the state and creating a teachers' retirement fund. After 25 years' service a teacher may retire and receive a pension of $300 annually.

Normal Bills Pass

The assembly this morning passed two normal appropriation bills, the first for $340,000 annually to defray current expenses, and the second for $65,000 for a dormitory at Superior, and $40,000 for land in Milwaukee and the improvements at the two schools. The bills now go to the governor.

The assembly passed two assembly bills providing for a biennial audit of the university and board of control accounts.

Vetoed, Chapple Bill
Governor Davidson sent in a lengthy veto message to Assemblyman Chapple's ore dock bill. He declares it a dangerous experiment to attempt to divide or segregate the ad valorem tax on railroads.

Senate passed an amendment to the civil service law which gives the civil service commission power to hear evidence in cases of removal.

Pass Fish and Game Bill

There will be no fishing on Memorial day. The assembly yesterday amended and passed the general fish and game bill providing for an open season for all fishing June 1. This was the way the original bill was passed in the senate, but Senator Gaylord secured the adoption of an amendment fixing the season as May 25, to give the workingman an opportunity to fish on Memorial. When the G. A. R.'s of the state learned of this movement they sent a general protest to the legislature with the result that the date June 1 was restored.

Hits La Crosse Seiners
Assemblyman McConnell secured the adoption of an amendment prohibiting seining in the sloughs about La Crosse. The principal speech in favor of the passage of the measure was made by Assemblyman Hamill.

Bills Killed

590a (Com.) To appropriate $2,500 to C. H. Welch for stenographic services to the investigating committee.

606S (Com.) Prohibiting the employees of a public service corporation holding public office.

The assembly passed: 878a (Com.) Requiring the testing of cattle sold for dairy purposes.

867a (Com.) Increasing the license fees of telephone companies.

894a (Com.) To give to J. W. Stone $485 for fishing fees illegally collected by mistake of law deposited in the state treasury and then repaid.

918a (Com.) To appropriate $500 to H. McArthur for the loss of a foot while boarding a train at Camp Douglas.

THESEPIANS WED

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 9.—Henry E. Dixey, a well known actor, fifty years of age, New York, has confessed that he and Miss Marie Nordstrom, 23 years of age, leading woman of "Mary Jane's Pa" company, of which he is the star, were married in Milwaukee on May 3. Mr. Dixey was married under the name of "William Litchfield" which is believed to be his true name.

THRILLING STORY OF BALLON TRIP

Indiana Caught in an Air Whirlpool, Carried to a Height of Over 18,000 Feet

TWICE TAKEN INTO DANGER

Mountaineers Later Opened Fire on Balloon and Add to Dangers of Perilous Trip in Air

BALLOON WAS CUT
NEW YORK, June 9.—A 4-inch cut in the Wade-Morgan gan balloon made with the knife of some malefactor, was the reason the Cleveland aeronauts voyaged so short a distance in the national balloon race from Indianapolis, according to Leo Stevens, who constructed the balloon. After their descent, Wade and Morgan shipped the balloon to Stevens. He examined it at his shop today and found the cut.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 9.—One of the most thrilling tales ever written of a balloon conquest of the air is found in a telegram received this morning by Ray Long, editor of the Cleveland Press, from his friend, Carl Fisher, owner and pilot of the balloon Indiana, whose spectacular flight in the championship balloon race attracted international attention. The story of the flight told in Fisher's own words follows:

"The balloon Indiana landed at Ruckin, Tenn., after 49 hours and

SUPERIOR, Wis., June 9.—The La Crosse sluggers took the final game of the series from Superior yesterday by opportune hitting, coupled with the excellent twirling of Pfeffer, who replaced Watson.

Watson started the contest for Safford but showed wildness in the early stages of the game and with his team two to the good in the second, the little La Crosse manager took no chances of losing so he hustled Iron-man Pfeffer to the front.

The big Fort Wayne pitcher held Drill's team helpless while the visitors straightened out the Demon Baertschi's benders and pounded them to all corners of the lot.

La Crosse slugs at Duluth today while Eau Claire comes here for a series of four. The score by innings: Superior, 000010000—1 3 2; La Crosse, 02001000—4 8 2.

Batteries—Baertschi and Clapper; Watson, Pfeffer and Klein.

DULUTH, Minn., June 9.—Eau Claire defeated the White Sox in easy fashion, Cummings, the Duluth "star," was on the bill for Duluth, and was batted hard and at opportune times. Sixteen hits were piled up from his delivery, and this, coupled with ragged support, made the game easy for Eau Claire. Morrow was hit freely, but was effective when hits meant runs.

Two errors, a sacrifice and a single in the first inning gave Chicago two runs. One single in the fifth was the only other hit off Mathewson. A pass in the third, a low throw in the fifth, McCormick's lead off with a two bagger in the sixth, each followed by timely hitting gave the Giants the victory.

Pittsburgh again defeated Philadelphia by haking a great rally toward the close of the game, the score being 4 to 2. Three hits, two sacrifices and Richie's error gave the Pirates two runs with but one man out. Hyatt again started the rally with a double. Brown was wild and was replaced in the fifth by Richie, who showed good control until the ninth. Philippe was weak, but Camnitz was especially strong with men on bases.

St. Louis, with Forrest More, the Springfield, Ill., recruit, pitching, easily defeated Brooklyn in the second game of the series by a score of 7 to 1. McIntyre was knocked out of the box, Pastorius relieving him. The Cardinals clinched the game in the second inning when they scored four runs on as many hits and two bases on balls.

Detroit defeated New York in an exciting eleven inning game. The Tigers were blanked until the seventh, when through three hits and two errors by Austin, they made four runs. New York tied the score in the eighth on a base on balls and lucky hits by substituted batsmen—Demmitt and Hemphill. Bush scored the winning run in the eleventh on McConnell's only gift. Cobb's single, Engle's fumble and Moriarty's infield out.

Speaker's single, following a three-bagger, scored the winning run for Boston in the twelfth, in the game with St. Louis. Errors and poor base running allowed the contest to go to extra innings and sensational plays by French, Niles and Speaker saved the game for the Beanees after the ninth.

Cleveland shut out the home team, 2 to 0. Joss held Philadelphia to one hit, a two bagger by Murphy in the fourth inning on triples by Hinchman and Stovall and a single by Easterly.

KETCHEL CONFIDENT OF SURE KNOCKOUT

O'Brien Says He Will Win the Decision Tonight on Points, But Stanley Thinks Differently

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 9.—"I have a great respect for Ketchel's punching powers and I am perfectly willing to admit that he is the hardest puncher in the world. However, I know that I am clever enough with my hands and fast enough with my feet to keep out of harm's way and gain the decision on points. I'll be more cautious than in my former battles." — Philadelphia Jack O'Brien.

"I assure you that I will knock out O'Brien in less than six rounds. I don't know just when I will do it but I will do it tonight just as soon as the opportunity presents itself. I am going after O'Brien from the start and will finish him sure before the bout has gone very long."—Stanley Ketchel.

With both men fairly exuding confidence everything is in readiness for the Ketchel-O'Brien bout at the National club tonight. The fight is expected to be a hummer from the start and there is a big sale of seats as it will be Ketchel's last appearance in the east until after his bout with Papke on the coast. There is little betting on the result with the local men taking the small end of a six to five proposition that O'Brien lasts six rounds.

Ketchel will try hard for a knockout but the fans insist that the distance is too short for the Montana man to get over his best blows.

MAKE RECORD FOR LONG BALL GAMES

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—When the baseball season is over and the snow is on the ground, San Francisco baseball fans will still be talking of the twenty-four inning game that was played there yesterday between the Oakland and San Francisco teams of the Pacific league. This is a world's record for teams in Class A or higher.

The feature of the game was the work of both pitchers, Wiggs, who was on the slab for Oakland allowed only 11 hits, and Henley, of the "Frisco" team, only 9 in twenty-four innings.

EVERYTHING READY FOR CHICAGO RACE

CHICAGO, June 9.—Everything is ready for the "Western Vanderbilt" road races of the Chicago Automobile club on the Crown Point-Lowell course in Indiana June 11 and 19. Every driver has been named and the list was closed yesterday.

Joe Seymour, famous as the driver of a Simplex in both the Briarcliffe and Savannah grand prix races is the choice for the Appleton second car. It is expected that within two days every contesting car and driver will be on the course.

TAFT AND THE TARIFF

No truer weather vane to the drift
of things in national government circles can be found than the letters of
"Raymond" (Patterson) to the Chicago Tribune. "Raymond" has the ear of the president and of all administration officials who are "in right" with the president. A strong suggestion from "Raymond" that the president will veto the outrageous tariff bill could safely be accepted as prophetic, and an intimation to the contrary is equally strong evidence that he will sign it. In his letter yesterday Raymond says:No one knows what President Taft will do, but the general feeling at the present time is that if the conference
agrees on a number of downward
changes, as in iron and steel, lumber, and the other big schedules, and frames up a tariff commission in such a way as to give him the initiative
in recommending new changes,
he will be satisfied with this ses-
sion's work as a starter and will approve the bill with a message explaining that fact, although he may make it clear that the revision is far from satisfactory to him, as everybody knows it must be.However, "Raymond's" language
as to the merits of the bill is equally convincing evidence of what Taft really thinks of it, or of what he wants it understood he thinks of it.
He says it will pass, and in saying so
he inflicts upon it condemnation of the most severe type. Two pertinent paragraphs from his letter yesterday
follow:What is known as the Aldrich bill
to distinguish it from the Payne bill
which passed the house will be jammed through the senate almost without the dotting of an "i" or the crossing of a "t." Mr. Aldrich has his combination of republicans and democrats well in hand, and, although he unfortunately loses his temper now and then, which is an entirely new thing for him, he has distributed the good things of the tariff so skillfully that his position is practically impregnable.The Payne bill was higher than the existing law in its general average.
The Aldrich bill is higher than the Payne bill. The conference has jurisdiction only of the things in dispute between the two houses, and it may be set down as a result of the preliminary skirmish over the cotton schedule that the tariff bill
which will be adopted by the conference and put up to President Taftfor his signature will contain, on an average, higher rates than the present law. There will be absolutely no revision downward and the people might as well understand that fact
now as later on.It is hard to imagine a president signing a bill which he regards in the light indicated by "Raymond's"
language, but the intimation that the president will insist upon a tariff commission may indicate that he is accepting "the worst of it" as handed out to him by the senate philosophically, and that he aims to reach
real downward tariff revision
through the commission. The nature of the commission will be important in determining the character of its influence, but speculation as to that is useless until the method of its creation and the influence guiding its selection is known. This country has got to go on, and Taft is in the saddle. The same way is to leave the president to his own methods until
in the light of experience, their purpose and efficiency are known. The country, meantime, can go on with its work, and the people can continue to pay too much and to hope for the time when they may be relieved from the burden of taxation for the maintenance of trusts and monopolies.

THAT "CUSS," MORRIS

Under the heading "An Amusing
Statesman" the Milwaukee Free
Press says: Senator Tom Morris, La Crosse statesman, comes pretty near being what the late lamented Artemus Ward would probably have called "an amusin' little cuss." Morris is a political purist who feels that the expenditure of $107,000 in a senatorial campaign calls for investigation. At the same time he is opposed to an amendment of the primary law that will make the participation by members of one party in the affairs of any other party probable, if not impossible. At the same time he declares his belief that the reason La Follette repudiated the primary election law last fall was because money was paid for democratic votes in Trempealeau county, and not because democrats interfered in the republican primary "fairminded-ly." At the same time he opposes any amendment that will prevent democrats, either "fairminded," by which is always understood those who support La Follette for the love they bear the uplift, or "commercial," by which is always understood such democrats as support either their own party or some other republican than the leader. At the same time
Morris does as many other absurd
things as occur to him.—The Chronicle.The "funny" Free Press, like its local prototype, adroitly fails to illustrate its humor by publishing Senator Morris' reasons for opposing the Twesme bill. It doesn't say (because to tell would defeat its purpose to misrepresent the senator) that Mr.
Morris said in the senate that he favored a law to segregate the parties
if one could be drawn that did not restore the power of corporation bossism and bind good men to vote for bad candidates. Here are the objections made by Senator Morris to the bill; see if they are not sound reasons:The Twesme bill provides that the ballots of the republicans shall be on paper of one color, and those of the democrats on paper of another color. This enables corporations and bosses to check up the voters and tell how they vote, and thus employers can dictate to their employees
how to vote, check them up, and
"fire" them if they do not vote as ordered.A large class of voters do not want their politics known. The colored ballots of the Twesme bill would prevent these men from keeping secret
their votes.Under the Twesme bill a voter is bound to vote in the general election
the ticket he voted in the primary.
If he voted for men he considered
good on one ticket in the primary,
and these men were not nominated,
but men whom he did not trust defeated them for nomination, he could not under the Twesme law change
to the opposing ticket, although he may have preferred that ticket to the nominees on the ticket he voted in the primary. The independent voter, the safety appliance of our election system, would thus be deprived of his right of choice.Nothing in the Twesme bill would prevent dishonest men selling their votes by voting a party ticket with which they had not been affiliated;
it would deprive the honest voter of that secrecy of the ballot which is his only protection against bossism
and the reprisals of monopolists.The "amusing" little cuss seems to have mixed his humor with sound logic.
Prof. Flynn, in his closing lecture
last night, held his great audience
spellbound for over three hours. Several times he stopped and said:
"If you are tired, I will close now."
"Go on! Go on!"
That was the answer from every corner of the auditorium. The people wanted to hear him through.
They were interested, for here was a great message that meant health and happiness and longevity to all who would follow the creed. It was a splendid demonstration of the man's knowledge of life and living, and his ability to impart his knowledge.It was an uncanny incident in which a negro was drowned at the La Crosse levee, and left there by the steamboat from which he fell to his death. No more shocking evidence of brutality can be imagined than the calous way in which the officials of the boat abandoned the man,
without the slightest effort to recover the body. The city authorities
should not permit this sort of thing,
and the company which runs its boats
with this horrifying disregard for decency should be forbidden entry to the port. There must be some legal way of disciplining the company
and to let the matter "slide" is to give this city a black eye wherever newspapers are read.At the risk of plunging certain reactionary gentlemen into abyssal
gloom we arise to state that Senator
Thomas Morris is enjoying excellent health, thank you.Quips and Cranks

Whenever you have met a gnat
And laid him low with hand or hat,
Or fanned at him this way and that,
And cursed such creatures,
I'll vow you've ne'er looked closely at
His salient features.He has a shrewish sort of face,
A glance demure, with just the trace
Of an impertinent grimace;
Which, after all,
You must admit is out of place
In one so small.And looking closer, I've despaired,
When lesser gnats are by his side,
Or midges, he assumes a stride,
And never melloes,
He has a most vainglorious pride
Mid smaller fellows.The fact that folks, like you and me,
Would notice him at all, you see,
Quite turned his little head, till he Lost all perspective;
He's quite puffed up with vanity

are the writers of "Pansies Mean Thoughts and Thoughts Mean You,"
one of the big ballad successes of the present season, and as they are both greatly interested in this song
they are prone to talk a great deal about it.Recently Mrs. Spencer added a window box to the furnishings of their apartment, and through sentiment planted pansies in it. Mary,
the cook, helped her to do the planting and was greatly interested in it.
However, Mary did not know that
Mr. and Mrs. Spencer were the authors of the "pansy" song.At the dinner table the other night
the Spencers were planning out what they would do with their "pansy"
money (meaning their royalties on the song). The cook was an attentive listener to the conversation.
The following Saturday, after receiving her pay, she informed Mrs.
Spencer that she was going to leave.
"Why, what on earth is the trouble, Mary?" asked Mrs. Spencer.
"Oh, yes," replied the servant, "I can't complain on that score."
"Then whatever is the trouble?"

SPOTLIGHTS

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

Among the most important musical and artistic events of the season
that has just been announced for Monday evening, June 14, at the La Crosse theater, is the appearance of the famous Russian Symphony orchestra of New York city, and the Ben Greet Players will give a joint performance of Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream" with the complete score of Mendelssohn's incidental music. A complete stage performance will be given by the Ben Greet Players under the personal direction of and including Mr.
Greet, and the exquisite music with which the comedy inspired Mendelssohn will be rendered by the Symphony orchestra of 50 men under the direction of Modest Altschuler, recognized as one of the greatest leaders in America today.The Russian Symphony orchestra
is now in its sixth season and is already rated among America's half dozen greatest orchestras. Its monthly concerts at Carnegie hall,
New York, are among the most important events of the season. At the December concert Mischka Elman, the great violinist who has taken New York by storm, made his debut. He was immediately engaged for a series of concerts at the Manhattan Opera house by Oscar Hammerstein and now appears here.The combination of a dramatic company and a Symphony orchestra is a most important one. It has been made in connection with the Mendelssohn centenary celebration, and the company and orchestra, numbering 100, is now making a 4 months'
tour. In New York, Boston and Philadelphia the Mr. Greet players have performed with the Symphony orchestra of those cities. Everywhere else the Russian Symphony orchestra has appeared.Mr. Greet will appear as Bottom.
Others in the company are Irene
Rooke, Milton Rosmer, John Sayer
Crawley, Allen Hilton, Frederick
Powell, Beatrice Mills, Le Gai Robinson, George Vivian, Violet Vivian
and Percival Seymour. Miss Ruth Vivian the Fairy Queen, who plays
Titania, will render Greek dances
to the accompaniment of the "Spring Song" (which is interpolated), and the "Nocturne." There is also a group of children for the fairy dances, and Grace Clarke Kahler, a well known soprano, for the two solos.Emphasis is laid upon the musical feature of the performance, which is said to be the most attractive one.
It is the first time in the history of music or the stage that a Symphony orchestra has toured with a dramatic company.Seats ready Friday morning at Miss Larson's candy store.

The Lay of the Listener

"Money talks," the saying says;
But when I hear the dulcet tone
It always seems so far away
I have to use the telephone;
And as I wait its voice to hear,
And care brings furrows to my
brow,
Fate answers in a tone severe,
"Ring off; the line is busy now!"

CAPITOL

(By John J. Hannan.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9.—
It is not possible in the brief space
of a letter to completely set forth all
of the incidents of the past week,
one of the most striking in the annals of the American congress. Nor is such complete review necessary to an understanding of the issue.
There were many incidents, each of great interest, some sensational, in the battle which waged in the senate over the cotton schedule but the great important fact which impressed itself upon the onlookers at the contest and should make a deep impression upon the country is that the senate is dominated by one man, Nelson
W. Aldrich.The brilliant attack upon the cotton schedule by Senator Dilliver and the careful analysis of that schedule
by Senator La Follette were unanswerable. The facts presented by Mr.
La Follette were so impressive that Senator Smith of Michigan said test
they answered he could not vote
with the committee. If the facts presented by Mr. La Follette and Mr.
Dilliver were placed side by side
with the statements of Senators Aldrich and Smoot before any unprejudiced jury in the world the verdict
would be that La Follette and Dil-liver had proved their case. Their arguments that the cotton rates have been increased were so overwhelming
that there was no escape from it. Yet
Senator Smith voted with Senator
Aldrich. Why?Senator Smith is not singled out for any reason other than that he stood up and made an open declaration. Other senators made statements to the same effect in private. These senators made no public declaration
to the effect that their intelligences
had been satisfied by any statement which Mr. Aldrich made. If they were satisfied it was not because of anything which made its appearance in the public record.Senator Aldrich said that the finance committee had not made any increases in the cotton schedule. He said the classifications had been changed; that specific duties had been substituted for ad valorem duties, those specific rates were generally lower than the ad valorem
rates of the present law; that changes
had been made to correct a wrong
by which certain articles of cotton known as estimates which were du-tiable at 60 per cent under the Dingley
rates now come in at a very low rate.Senator Dilliver called in vain for Senator Aldrich to remain on the floor during his discussion. But the Rhode Islander would not. The Iowa
senator asked the Rhode Islander to point out a single rate of 60 per cent in the cotton schedule of the Dingley law. Mr. Aldrich was not there but Mr. Smoot, his faithful assistant upon the finance committee,
arose and was compelled to admit that there was no such rate in the cotton schedule but was in the linen schedule. So there was no such rate
as 60 per cent as claimed by Mr.
Aldrich.Senator La Follette met Mr. Aldrich's statement that the special rates
of the Aldrich bill are not an increase over the Dingley law by reducing the Dingley ad valorem to specific rates and reading the bill
line by line and demonstrated the specific rates to be an increase ranging from 4 to 100 per cent and that there were 60 of these increases in the cotton cloth schedule alone. Of these 49 are 20 per cent or over and the average increase is 23.9 per cent.
The only reply made to this statement was in the following lively bit of dialogue.Mr. Aldrich: I will say to the senator now, right in the beginning,
that under the act of 1897, as originally interpreted, and according to the intention of congress, the rates
on articles which are now subject to duty at 25 per cent ad valorem was 60 per cent ad valorem and 45 per cent ad valorem, and 25 per cent
ad valorem.Mr. La Follette: If the senator had not retreated with such precipitate haste from the chamber this morning, he would not now make this assertion.Mr. Aldrich: I do make it. I make it on my own authority, on the authority of every expert in the United States, and every other person who has had any knowledge upon this question.Mr. La Follette: The senator's knowledge and his authority have been so overwhelmingly impeached
that I do not believe senators will be inclined to follow him. I knew that an intelligent American people will not. I proceed. If the senator has not any better answer than that, I will say that we have heard that often enough.Mr. Aldrich: When the senator says that the Dingley rate is so many cents a square yard, I wish to say that the Dingley rate is not so many cents a square yard, but that it is 25 per cent ad valorem.Mr. La Follette: It is 20 per cent
ad valorem, and other senators understand that I am giving the specific equivalent of the Dingley ad valorem rate. If there is any other senator here who does not understand it, I should be glad to have him rise and say so.Mr. Aldrich: I want to call the attention of the Senator to the fact that the rates which he is quoting as Dingley rates are not Dingley rates
at all.Mr. La Follette: The rates that I am quoting as Dingley rates are the Dingley rates. The senator's dictum does not go any longer.Mr. Aldrich: We will see in a moment.Mr. La Follette: Oh, it will probably be voted through. The votes upon all senate amendments, from the beginning of the consideration of this bill, have demonstrated that this schedule and this bill will pass.
This bill was, in fact, passed, let me
say to the senate, when the senator

THE COMPLETE NEWS OF THE NORTH SIDE TODAY

Pound of Solid Flesh Daily!

Good, Healthy Fat and Muscle Put on Your Bones by using SAMOSE

Money Positively Refunded if This Scientific Treatment Fails To Do All That Is Claimed For It.

SAMOSE, a Concentrated Flesh Forming Food, the Only Remedy Known for Thinness — Builds Up the Thin and Weak, Brings Back the Rosy Blush of Health to Pale cheeks, Rounds Out the Scrawny Form and Gives the Beauty Lines of Plumpness.

TO PALE, THIN PEOPLE

Offer to Pay for Samose if It Does Not Make Thin Folks Fat

Pale, thin people are simply suffering from want of nourishment. They may eat enough, but their food is not properly digested, and does them no good.

Samose, the remarkable flesh-forming food should be used by all who are pale, weak and thin. It mingles with the food and aids assimilation, so that when taken for a short time Nature will soon assert her normal powers, and the food that is eaten will give strength and good flesh.

Weigh yourself before you commence the use of Samose, and you will notice a steady gain. Samose is not a cod liver oil or similar nauseating concoction, but a scientific flesh-forming food that restores the thin and scrawny to their proper weight, and fills the weak and debilitated with vigor and vitality.

The woman who longs for rosy cheeks and the plumpness of beauty should use Samose. The man who wants to be strong and well and gain health and good flesh will find his desires accomplished by Samose.

Such remarkable results have followed the use of Samose that O. T. Erhart, the druggist, is willing to pay for the treatment if it does not give the desired results. He makes this offer generally and wants all who are weak, thin or out of health to get a box of Samose on those terms.

THE FATNESS OF HEALTH

Samose Fills Out the curves and Makes Thin People Fat

If you are thin your health is not what it should be. If you are losing weight steadily, there is something wrong that should be attended to at once. You can not be healthy and strong if you are thin.

Perfect health and good, solid, beautiful flesh can only come through the use of Samose, the remarkable flesh-forming food.

This makes the thin and scrawny plump and robust; it mixes with the food so that all of the elements that make solid bone, firm muscle and good flesh are thoroughly assimilated and retained in the system.

Samose is not a drug or stimulant; it is a scientific, flesh-forming food that restores thin people to a normal condition of good healthy flesh.

There are thousands of unhappy, nervous thin people who would look and feel entirely different if they were only fat and plump. Let them use Samose and they will soon notice remarkable results.

These statements are confirmed by O. T. Erhart, the druggist's offer to refund the money to any one buying and using Samose, who does not gain in weight as promised. The risk is all his. The thin and scrawny can buy Samose at O. T. Erhart's store with the knowledge that if it is not successful it will cost absolutely nothing.

A LIBERAL OFFER

Any One Can Try Samose, the Remarkable Flesh-Forming Food.

When one of the leading druggists in La Crosse tells you that he has a preparation on which he will refund your money if it does not do all that is claimed for it, it shows that the article must have unusual merits. It is in this way that O. T. Erhart, the druggist, sells Samose, the remarkable flesh-building food.

This great discovery is destined to work a great revolution in treating the thin, the weak and the sick. There can be no doubt that it helps people who are weak and sickly, who are tired and who have poor digestion, restoring them quickly to health and strength, and increasing the weight so that life is a pleasure and a joy.

Samose is in reality a concentrated food, and restores life and vitality at once to the blood. It mixes with the ordinary foods and aids digestion; it extracts from the food that you eat the flesh-forming and strength-giving elements, building up the tissues and the general health.

Any one can get a 50-cent box of this remarkable flesh-forming food, knowing that their money will be refunded if it does not increase weight and restore the system to health.

KNUT C. WINGSTAD PARALYTIC, EXPIRES

Well Known North Side Man, First Stricken About Two Years Ago, Is No More

LIVED HERE 15 YEARS

Born in Norway, But Has Spent Most of Later Years in City of La Crosse

Knut Wingstad, aged 58 years, expired at his residence at 1219 North street at 7 o'clock last evening. About two years ago the deceased suffered a stroke of paralysis and since that time he had always been an invalid, being confined the greater part of that time.

Mr. Wingstad was born in Norway about 58 years ago and came to America with his parents at the age of three years. They settled at Ettrick, the older element was also present. About 15 years ago Mr. Wingstad came to La Crosse making his home here permanently.

Surviving him are a widow and four children, Albert, Tillie and Emma of this city, and Ida of Sioux City, Iowa.

The funeral will be held at the residence at 2 o'clock and at the Norwegian Trinity Lutheran church at 2:30 o'clock. Friday afternoon Undertaker Sletten in charge and Rev. T. T. Hovstad officiating. Interment will be made in the Oak Grove cemetery.

PRESTON, MINN.

The sad news of the death of Miss Esther Reinohl cast a gloom of sadness over the city here on the passenger was the daughter of Mr. Frank Reinohl, conductor here on the passenger for a long time before being transferred to the main line and who moved to La Crosse.

A great many of our people are making arrangements to take in the Redpath-Vawter Chautauqua to be held at La Crosse the week commencing June 28.

A little daughter arrived at the home of Fireman John Schnuffer of the passenger run.

Mr. J. H. Stapleton, superintendent of the Dubuque division, was in town Thursday on business.

Roller skating is all the rage here now, even if the weather is warm. A rink has been opened up for skating Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

The four young men taken in charge by Policeman Afseth for over-driving a team last Sunday, were taken before Justice Johnson and fined $5 and costs, while the driver and owner of the team was fined $10 and costs.

Mr. Greig has sold out the Cainor store here to Mr. Smith of Rushford. The latter will take possession at once.

Jacob Johnson who bears the reputation of being an A. No. 1 carpenter, came to town and indulged too freely of booze and was taken in charge by Policeman Afseth. In order to give him a chance to get to work, Justice Johnson gave him a suspended sentence of 40 days.

Mr. M. Bodenheimer, of Green Bay, Wis., is here again looking for another carload of horses.

Dr. Tetterud, V. S., saved Dr. Kremer's dog which was badly poisoned.

Mr. Chas. Gulder, an expert hotel man, has arrived from Minneapolis, Minn., and will take possession of the Tibbets hotel as soon as vacated.

George Lore has returned from the university for the summer, he is studying medicine.

Mr. Beers of La Crosse, brakeman on the S. M. division, spent a few days with Preston friends.

Manager Tibbets of Tibbets theatre is negotiating for the Gale College band for a date here this month.

The bill boards here are covered with Marvel flour posters, a product of one of the largest institutions of La Crosse, the Listman Mill Co.

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN

The city council passed an anti-spitting ordinance at the meeting Monday evening. This ordinance provides for a fine of $10 for expectorating on the sidewalks or in doorways of business places, etc. It is a move in the right direction and should receive the support of every citizen of Prairie du Chien.

The play "The Black Flag," presented by a home talent company for the benefit of the band, Monday evening, was repeated by special request Tuesday evening. The performance was well received. Dan Mackin's specialty act and to work of Huribut and Miner were especially pleasing.

The force of Belgian sugar cultivators employed to attend to the acreage of sugar beets in this vicinity is encamped in the first ward. These men are experts brought over from the best fields of Belgium by the sugar beet concerns in this country to demonstrate advanced methods of cultivating the crop.

WORDS ABOUT HEADACHE AND EYESTRAIN

FROM

H. C. EVENSON, Eyesight Specialist

Fifth and Main Streets, Over Hoeschler's Drug Store.

Never have I had the connection between Headache and Eyestrain brought home to me more forcibly than during this week.

Out of the cases that have visited me during the past three days from all over this district, OVER A DOZEN HAVE COME BECAUSE OF SEVERE HEADACHES, and those although their vision was perfect—or nearly so.

They felt the eyestrain must be at the bottom of the trouble, and so came in order that, after the most careful scientific testing, glasses might be supplied, and the cause of the trouble removed.

That Wearing of Proper Glasses Will Positively Cure Headache

even when of long standing, the remarkable testimonial given below conclusively proves.

PARK DAVIS & COMPANY

DETROIT, MICH., U. S. A.

Mr. H. C. Evenson,
La Crosse, Wis.,
Dear Sir:

Minneapolis Minn., May 3, '09.

You will recall having made for me, some months ago, the pair of riding bow spectacles and I am pleased, indeed, in this manner to advise that they are not only satisfactory entirely, but I believe, perfect. Have been fitted before by a number of prominent oculists but believe this pair I obtained from you to be the best all around outfit I have ever had, and I have worn spectacles for the last twenty years. Wishing you continued success, I remain,

Attempt to Kidnap Little Russian Prince

What is said to have been a deliberate attempt to kidnap Nicholli, the little Russian prince who is being exhibited at the North side carnival, occurred last evening about closing time of the show. Mrs. Blitz, wife of the manager of the Russian prince, was startled to hear cries from the midget, whom she had left standing on the platform to get a little fresh air after an arduous evening's performance at the carnival. When she rushed to the front, it is said, she spied a stranger dashing toward the entrance. He had not gone far, and as she could see nothing of the prince she supposed that he was confined somewhere under the man's top coat.

Afterward, it is said, this theory was found to be correct, for the prince himself says he was nearly smothered in an inside pouch or pocket. His weak little voice could scarcely be heard outside, and probably for that reason those who saw the man hastening away thought nothing of what was going on. Mrs. Blitz called her husband, who was near by, and together they hurried to the entrance of the lot and headed off the man.

When they reached him he was in the act of springing into an auto. Mrs. Blitz caught hold of him and held him fast, while her husband diving down into the bulging pouch-like pocket, extracted the midget. The stranger broke Mrs. Blitz's hold and jumped into the auto and soon disappeared from sight.

Mr. Blitz heard nothing further of the man. A similar attempt was made to steal the midget while he was being exhibited in the west a few weeks ago, but the scheme did not come so near being successful. Mr. Blitz said last night that he thinks a party of showmen are watching for the purpose of kidnapping the two foot man for their own profit.

Prince Nicholli, when seen last night, said: "My, Oh my, but that was a close shave. I was awful scared when I was plunked down in that man's pocket. It seemed like being put into a bag. He got me in head first and I nearly smothered before I was able to wiggle around and get on my feet. Even then it was blamed uncomfortable, for the fellow who had me kept running and I was bumping against his legs. But Daddy Blitz was Johnny at the rat hole and here I am. Say, have you got a Havana about you?"

Then the little fellow went to smoking and sighed contentedly as he gazed at the people passing down the street. Mr. Blitz says that he is personally responsible for the safety of the little prince and he would not lose him in such a way for a large sum of money.

EDUCATOR SUICIDES.

HICAGO, June 9.—After prophesying his own death and writing a series of melancholy poems, Chas. N. Ettinger, one of the founders of Chicago University and a famous educator, was found drowned this morning in Lake Michigan. There is no doubt that he committed suicide; while mentally irresponsible.

RELIGIOUS WAR ON.

GLASGOW, June 9.—Trouble that has been brewing for months between the Catholics and Protestants of Lanarkshire is at fever heat today as a result of a riotous clash last night between the two in the town of Motherwell, 12 miles southeast of here. Twenty of the rioters were dangerously injured and hundred or more slightly hurt.

SHOT FRIEND FOR THIEF.

WATER VALLEY, Miss., June 9.—While passing the home of J. R. Marquette early today, Henry Hill was mortally wounded by a bullet from Marquette's revolver. Marquette was engaged in an encounter with a burglar. They exchanged shots but neither was hurt. The burglar fled and Marquette went back to bed. Later he heard some one groaning and going out in the yard found Hill, one of his closest friends, dying.

MAKING SUNSHINE.

It Is Often Found in Pure Food.

The improper selection of food drives many a healthy person into the depths of despairing illness. Indeed, most sickness comes from wrong food and just so surely as that is the case right food will make the sun shine once more.

An old veteran of Newburyport, Mass., says: "In October, I was taken sick and went to bed, losing 47 pounds in about 60 days. I had doctor after doctor, food hurt me and I had to live almost entirely on magnesia and soda. All solid food distressed me so that water would run out of my mouth in little streams."

"I had terrible night sweats and my doctor finally said I had consumption and must die. My good wife gave up all hope. We were at Old Orchard, Me., at that time, and my wife saw Grape-Nuts in a grocery there. She bought some and persuaded me to try it.

"I had no faith in it, but took it to please her. To my surprise it did not distress me as all other food had done and before I had taken the fifth package I was well on the mend. The pains left my head, my mind became clearer and I gained weight rapidly.

"I went back to my work again and now after six weeks' use of the food I am better and stronger than ever before in my life. Grape-Nuts surely saved my life and made me a strong hearty man, 15 pounds heavier than before I was taken sick.

"Both my good wife and I are willing to make affidavit to the truth of this."

CROWDS THROG CARNIVAL STREETS

Kline Shows Best Ever Seen at Carnival Held at the North Side So Far

RAIN DAMPERS ATTRACTION

But Crowds Are So Thick It Is Difficult to Pass Through the Streets

Despite the drizzling rain which fell last evening, the streets on which the north side carnival is showing were crowded with humanity. Every show on the midway was running and from reports this morning, they showed to excellent business. The wild west attraction was forced to turn away people at every performance. The free acts performed in the drizzling rain and people who saw them say that they are marvelous. Ethardo does an aerial contortion act which is wonderful. All the work being done in the air. Vonilla and Nina present a posing aerial performance. They are without a doubt the best free acts that have ever been seen with a carnival company in this city.

The festive youth was in evidence, munching his popcorn or peanuts and trying to see everything that it was possible to get a view of, while the older element were also present in large numbers. The streets were literally packed with people, the crowds at times being so thick that it was a difficult task to move about. The weather of the past few days hampered the carnival to some extent. The various refreshment stands are not doing the business that is customary with good weather.

Pay As You Go.

If You Don't Live Right You Will Lose Your Good Health

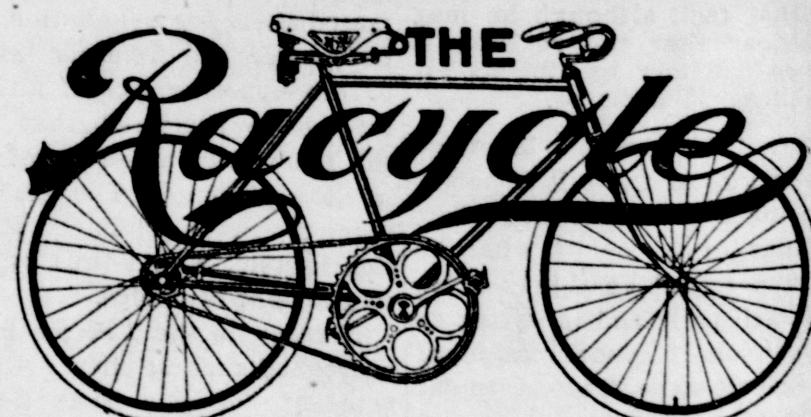

There are certain things which men do which are thought to be harmful. There are excesses of feeding, an drinking, and dressing, and playing. You may not believe you are paying as you go—paying in loss of health—but you are and soon your cheeks fade and your bright eyes are dull, your sweet breath of youth is tainted, your soft, smooth skin, rough and dry. Nature is collecting her due—you are paying as you go.

Take account of yourself. Live right, breathe right, think right, eat right. You owe it to yourself and the world to do your work with your utmost capacity. You can't do it on or with a sour stomach, impure blood or tired brain. Eat right and you'll sleep right, do right you'll work right. Work right and you'll succeed largely. Meats and rich foods do not start the day well. Make your breakfast of E-C Corn Flakes or Egg-O-See Wheat Flakes—always ready to serve, easy to digest, ample in muscle and nerve building, sufficient in vitalizing force.

Remember it's the wonderful Egg-O-See process that makes them so good to eat.

ONALASKA STORE IS BURGLARIZED

The general merchandise store of P. B. Frederickson at Onalaska was broken into Monday night and the cash register, containing about four dollars, was carried a distance of a block and broken into. The robber was evidently disappointed at the quantity of the booty and proceeded to demolish the cash register. The greatest loss was the destruction of the cash register, the machine being valued at about $500. The robber in order to get the cash, was obliged to break into the register. The instructions which go with cash registers when they are sold are that the cash drawers should be left open during the night in case of burglars, to prevent the machine from being smashed.

The building was entered from the rear, a door having been pried open with a jimmy. The work is believed to be that of professionals. The case is now in the hands of the police authorities.

KOHLHAUS-LINKER

Miss Selma Kohlhaus and Mr. Anton Linker were married last evening at the home of the bride in the presence of a large number of friends.

Rev. Emil Berger, pastor of the First German Baptist church, performed the ceremony. The Misses Selma and Elsa Frankensen, nieces of the bride, were bridesmaids, and the Messrs. Frank Schwalbe and Arthur Schwalbe, nephews of the groom, were groomsmen. The bride gown was a beautiful and dainty creation of white chiffon over silk, trimmed with a combination of silk embroidery and lace. She carried a snowier bouquet of lilies of the valley tied with long streamers and loops of chiffon satin ribbon.

Miss Selma Frankensen wore pink silk mullie over pink silk and trimmed with valenciennes lace. She carried a bunch of pink roses. Miss Elsa Frankensen wore blue silk mullie over blue silk and carried white roses. The bride's going-away gown was a tailored suit of tan cloth. Her hat was tan, trimmed in blue.

After congratulations an elaborate wedding dinner was served. The Misses Caroline Claus, Nellie Schick, Maud Wallace and Lillian Dagendish assisting.

Miss Daisy Cawley played Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bride party entered the room. The house was a bower of blossoms and greens. The color scheme in the parlor was pink relieved with masses of green. On the bridal table was a handsome wedding cake and a large basket of lilies of the valley.

Festoons of smilax drooped from the chandeliers over the table, giving a dainty and pretty effect. The evening was spent in music and dancing. There were about thirty guests present.

The bride is the daughter of the late Jacob Kohlhaus and is prominent in social circles. There were many beautiful and elegant gifts from friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Linker left in the midnight train and will go abroad for their honeymoon.

BRINGS IN WRECK OF CASH REGISTER

D. M. Donaldson the local agent for the National Cash Register company, returned to the city last night, from Onalaska, with the remains of the big cash register smashed by burglars in the robbery of the Frederickson store there Monday night.

The wreck will probably be placed on display in some local shop window by Mr. Donaldson, as a warning to register owners to comply with the suggestion of the company, to leave cash drawers open when the place is closed for the night.

The robbers carried the Frederickson machine out of the store to a vacant lot, a block away, where the base of it was smashed with an ax. The mechanical part was not damaged.

GOLD MEDAL FLOUR

Anyone interested in good health is entitled to join the club, as there is no charge excepting whatever dues the club members themselves shall decide upon for maintenance, and the membership is not confined to members of Mr. Flynn's classes. The Flynn system will be taught and carried out by the Hundred Year club and much good is certain to result from the organization.

Leave For Home
Miss Elva Bosworth, Mr. Flynn's assistant left on the morning train today for Minneapolis, and Prof. Flynn, accompanied by "Pat" Flynn, a pure bred English bull dog presented to him by Mr. F. H. Burgess, left on the noon Burlington for his home in California. The La Crosse campaign closed his work for the present season. Before their departure this morning, a large number of friends and class members called upon Mr. Flynn and Miss Bosworth at the Tribune office to bid them good bye and express their appreciation of the good derived from his instruction in La Crosse. Many cures of a serious ailment have been recorded and the appreciation of these former sufferers knows no bounds. Every member of Mr. Flynn's classes now has a chest expansion of from 6 to 9 inches, the latter being as large as that of Mr. Flynn himself. With such chest expansion and a continuation of the breathing exercises lung trouble is impossible, he says.

Books and Preparations
Before leaving the city Prof. Flynn arranged with Mr. Charles Weis, 509 Main street, the book and stationery dealer, who has been a member of his classes, to handle his hair tonic, shampoo, face cream and books. The preparations can be secured there from now on at the regular price of 50 cents and the books at $1.00. Owing to the inability of the manufacturers of the face cream to supply the demand it was impossible to get a shipment of the cream here last evening for the lecture, so that people who desired the creams were asked to hold their coupons and redeem them at Mr. Weis' store after the arrival of the cream, which will be announced in The Tribune. The cream will probably arrive in a day or two.

HUMPHREYS CAN'T FIND DIRECTORS

Secretary Humphreys of the state arbitration board, who came to La Crosse to attempt an adjustment of the trouble between the street car employees and the company, is unable to locate any of the officers or directors of the company. The union leaders today declare the directors have secluded themselves, or have left the city. They say they must have got wind of Humphreys' coming, for since his arrival at 10:40 yesterday morning he has been looking in vain for them.

It is stated that before leaving the city President Edwards left strict orders with Superintendent Shaw not to recognize the union in any way during his absence, and the men believe the officials are avoiding Humphreys in order to evade discussing arbitration.

SAFFORD PROTESTS SUPERIOR GAME

Manager Joe Safford of the La Crosse baseball team has protested the game which was played with Superior Monday on the grounds, that when the umpire ordered Manager Drill of the Superior team off the field, he refused to go and a policeman who was asked to escort him from the grounds refused. Safford therefore claims that his team was not afforded the police protection that is required by the league rules. There is a possibility that President Elliott may decide against Superior, as he is strongly against rowdism and demands ample protection for his umpires.

ALLEGED PICKPOCKET WAS BANK ROBBER

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 9.—Chester Barcas, alleged pickpocket with an extensive record, under arrest in Chicago, is alleged to have been implicated in the theft of a satchel containing $3,841 in the lobby of the First National bank, Milwaukee, at noon some months ago.
Barcas has been examined by Detective Dennis Sullivan. He refused to come to Milwaukee, so the police will resort to extradition proceedings.

SUE BENTONS FOR PRICE OF PLANT

Although the county of La Crosse got rid of its lighting plant, the county of La Crosse is still having considerable inconvenience in connection with the plant.
County Attorney James Thompson, in behalf of the county, today commenced suit against T. P. Benton & Sons, the contractors who installed the plant, and later bought it back again from the county, for payment for the plant.
It is alleged by the county attorney that Benton & Sons bought the plant back from the county, and sold it to another party, but never paid the county a cent of what they received for it. The sum involved is about $300.

JOBBER WILL AID IN LANESBORO TRIP

By co-operative work, the Jobbers' and Manufacturers' club and the Board of Trade expect to make the excursion to Lanesboro, June 25, one of the largest and most successful events of this kind ever participated in by the people of La Crosse.
Last evening the Jobbers' club held a meeting and it was decided to accept the invitation which had been extended by the business men of Lanesboro. They decided to co-operate with the Board of Trade in an effort to secure a delegation which would be a representative one for La Crosse in numbers and in character. President W. J. Bryant and Secretary R. Calvert were appointed as a committee to act in conjunction with a similar one from the Board of Trade to make all the arrangements for the excursion.

AND NOW COCKROACHES

Found to Be not only Filthy Pests but Dangerous to Health

Should Be Exterminated.

While scientists have long appreciated the danger from vermin and evil insects, yet it is only recently that National and State officials and the general public have sought to exterminate rats, flies, mosquitoes, and cockroaches.

Rats carry the dread bubonic plague, mosquitoes are responsible for yellow fever, flies spread typhoid fever, while cockroaches are not only a grave reproach to the good housewife but a serious pest and nuisance.

Several states have recently issued bulletins telling how to destroy cockroaches, but the Department of Agriculture at Washington has undoubtedly given the most practical advice, for it recommended a method that has been used successfully in ridding its own offices of cockroaches.

Now that the cockroach season has officially been declared open, this method will be of special value to housekeepers. Get 25c worth of cockroach paste from your druggist, and spread it on pieces of paper and place in sinks, closets, pantries, etc., and not only will it kill all roach inhabitants but will keep other colonies from forming. When the housekeeper remembers that a healthy pair of cockroaches will have a million descendants in a year should none of them die, the necessity of exterminating the pests when first seen will be appreciated. The unusually cold, damp spring this year makes good breeding weather for the disgusting roach, and this simple means of extermination, recommended by the Agricultural Department, should be tried by every good housewife who is bothered with roaches.

THRILLING STORY OF BALLOON TRIP

rifles to see which one could "bust it," thinking it was a circus balloon without passengers.

"The winds generally were very poor and we only made headway at twelve thousand feet. The heat at ten and twelve thousand feet was intense as the result of the reflection from the sun white clouds.

Near Nashville we had the most thrilling experience of the trip and Bumbaugh says that in over 300 trips he never before had such an experience and has only read of one.

There seems to be a general current of air over the river which in some peculiar manner is affected by the currents from over the mountains. At any rate, while sailing along at 800 feet just after fixing up for our night ride our balloon commenced to spin around and ascend very rapidly. We shot up to 14,000 feet and were almost frozen stiff. Bumbaugh was unable to figure it out and it was certain death to us to use the valve to stop our upward flight.

White vapor gas was poured out from the appendix and things looked serious. At last at 16,800 feet, Bumbaugh opened the valve to release the bag from bursting, but up she went until he opened the valve again. It seemed to her as if she were being pulled down very slowly. Then we began to descend very slowly. We expected to use all our ballast to break the fall but it was not necessary as we rode down the outer edge of the whirlpool without the dumping of an ounce of ballast.

Caught Again by Current

"We were within 1,400 feet of the ground feeling better, when up we went the second time, and repeated the descent. This time we went clear down, letting out enough gas to drag on the tree tops and at 5 a. m. we were hanging on to tree tops with our drag ropes and only seven miles from Nashville.

"We made the circuit of about 24 miles three times. The morning wind from the west finally pulled us out and we were certainly thankful.

"We had during the day two other ascents of the same kind but less spectacular, only taking us up eight and nine thousand feet. From Ashland City we could see plainly at 10,000 feet up the cesspool near Nashville, a huge column of clouds standing at least 18,000 feet and in constant boiling action. It was very beautiful but no more Nashville ballooning for me.

Other Balloon Defective

"I have just wired the Aero club of America and demanded an official investigation of the claims made by Wade and Morgan of Cleveland. I personally think their balloon must have been poorly sewed or varnished, causing leaks. We will spare no pains or money to learn the truth. Have had no sleep for three nights and days and am about all in. Good night."

WORKMAN CAUGHT IN CAVING BANK

Ole Larson Buried Alive
While Employed on the South Side Sewer Excavations

While stooping over in the ditch near Gund's brewery, where a sewer is being laid, Ole Larson, 1403 South Fourth street, was caught in a caving which buried him up to his neck. A large rock on the upper bank rolled down with the dirt and just missed his head, while a telephone pole which had become loosened was about to fall, being caught by some of the men. Some of the other workmen saw the accident and dug the unfortunate man out. He was not seriously injured.

FUNERAL OF CHAS. MILLER TOMORROW

At a meeting of the La Crosse County Bar Association this afternoon arrangements were made to attend the funeral of Attorney Charles B. Miller, in a body tomorrow morning. The lawyers will assemble at the house, 1008 State street, at 8:30 and proceed to the Cathedral where services will be held at 9 o'clock. Tug pallbearers appointed are Attorneys George H. Gordon, W. F. Wolfe, O. R. Skaar, George Bunge, Andrew Lees and John F. Doherty. The following committee on resolutions was appointed: W. F. Wolfe, Frank Winter and Mills Tourtellotte.

UNIFORM FEES FOR LOCAL COLLECTIONS

At a meeting this afternoon the La Crosse County bar association appointed Attorneys P. W. Mahoney, Fred H. Hartwell and George H. Gordon as a committee to devise a uniform system of fees for collections made by the attorneys of the city. The committee will present their schedule at the next meeting of the association for adoption.

ALDRICH RULES IN WOOL FIGHT ALSO

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9.—The senate today adopted the paragraph in the Aldrich bill restoring the Dingley rates on wool wastes by a vote of 49 to 30. Nine republican progressives voted with the democrats. The Aldrich rate is 30 cents a pound, an increase of from 5 to 10 cents a pound over the Payne rate. The senate next adopted the paragraph of the Aldrich bill which increases the Payne rate on shoddy, etc., by a vote of 42 to 30. Nine republican progressives voted with the democrats and Senator McEnery of Louisiana voted with the republicans. The Aldrich rates in that paragraph are the same as the Dingley rates.

To Tax Corporations

The occasion of a "mysterious" visit of Senator Aldrich to the White house yesterday was to submit to the president an amendment to the tariff bill which Aldrich purposes to offer to assess a small tax on the corporations. This, it is expected, will be two per cent and is intended to realize about $20,000,000 in revenue. It is proposed that this tax shall take the place of the income and inheritance tax ideas. It is understood that the president received Senator Aldrich's proposition favorably.

EVERYONE NEEDS S.S.S. IN THE SPRING

This is just a short talk which we hope will be of interest and help to you in selecting the tonic and blood purifier that will be of the greatest value to you this Spring.

That this is the most trying of all seasons on the health is a fact well known to us all. It is the time of year when our constitutions are required to stand the greatest strain, and unless properly cared for the foundation is often laid for physical disorders or disease later on. The great majority of persons are fast coming to realize the importance of preventing disease. Health is our most valued possession, and its preservation is a matter which vitally concerns every one.

Most persons, even those who are ordinarily strong and robust, feel the necessity of a tonic and blood purifier at this season. Some have no particular ailment, but are weak, debilitated and run-down. The Winter life, with its decreased amount of out-door exercise, and the fact that the cold weather has kept the pores of the skin closed, prevented the usual necessary amount of refuse and waste matter from being carried out of the system. These impurities entering the circulation have weakened and thinned the blood, and this vital fluid is therefore lacking in the nourishing properties necessary to sustain and preserve systemic health, when warm, active Spring life begins.

The general bodily weakness, tired, worn-out feeling, fickle appetite, poor digestion, etc., show how weak and anaemic the blood has become. Frequently skin diseases, pimples, eruptions, boils, etc., break out on the skin, and this is evidence of the impurity of the circulation.

S. S. S. is the medicine needed to correct this condition, and is the only one on which you can rely to supply the system with the best tonic effects, and at the same time thoroughly purify the blood. The use of S. S. S. at this time may save you from a long spell of sickness, and it will certainly prepare you for the strain of the long, hot Summer.

Many people have put off using a tonic until the system became so weakened it could not resist disease, and have paid for the neglect with a spell of fever, malaria, or some other trouble.

S. S. S. is Nature's ideal tonic and blood purifier, made entirely of the pure extracts of healing, strengthening, health-giving roots and herbs. It tones up the stomach and digestion, rids one of that tired, worn-out feeling, improves the appetite and digestion, and in every way contributes to the strengthening and building up of the entire system. S. S. S. is recognized everywhere as the greatest of all blood purifiers, and this combined with its unequalled tonic properties, make it a medicine needed by every one in the Spring.

S. S. S. is for sale at all drug stores.

BARNES JOLTS THE OTHER JUDGES

MADISON, Wis., June 6.—Associate Justice John Barnes, the most recently elected member of the supreme court of Wisconsin, has filed a dissenting opinion in which he hands the majority of the court a handful of jolts, suggesting that the court handed out unsound, childish and impossible reasoning in its decision of the Superior railroad crossing case which was filed by Justice Kerwin last week. In a controversy between the "Soo" and the Northern Pacific railroad companies over a crossing at Superior, the railroad commission decided that the Junior road, the "Soo" must pay for the building of the crossing, but that the two roads must bear equally the expense of installing an interlocking plant for public safety, and of maintaining the crossing and safety appliances. This decision went to the courts, was sustained in full by the circuit court for Dane county and when carried to the state supreme court was held up for months and finally modified and affirmed so that the senior road may recover back from the Junior road the cost of installing and maintaining assessed against it. The theory of Justice Kerwin and the majority of the court was that to make the senior road pay would be taking its property without due process of law. Justice Barnes in his dissenting opinion declares that the majority of the court has confounded the power of eminent domain with the police power of the state, that the installation of a safety device is if necessary for public safety to be ordered under police power, that the idea that the assessment for installation and maintenance of the safety device should be first paid by the senior road and then recovered back is foolish, not intended by the legislature and that the "legislature should be acquitted of anything so childish." He declares that it would be impossible for the senior road to recover in a suit of any kind for the cost of maintenance in the years to come, and therefore the court has made a decision unreasonable and impracticable. "No one can determine," he says, "when the earth will cease to exist, or is wise enough to say that these roads will not be operated for all time." Chief Justice Winslow, the senior member of the court, has filed his agreement with the dissenting opinion of Justice Barnes. It is said that other members of the court will also file differing views, and there is a stronger possibility that a rehearing of the case will be had so that the court may reconsider and straighten itself out.

MINNESOTA AND THE NORTHWEST

TRUNK CHECK RULE HANDICAPS PUBLIC

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 9.—By an order recently adopted by the Western Passenger association, which practically controls the passenger traffic over all western roads, travelers will hereafter be compelled to attend the checking of their baggage at stations, and no more checking will be allowed from ticket offices, hotels, wagons or draymen.

CLAIMS HE WAS BEATEN IN CELL

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 9.—Ben Tesmer, who was in jail on a charge of drunkenness, has made complaint to Judge Finchout, that he was the recipient of a terrible beating in his cell at the central police station at the hands of a jailer in uniform who entered the cell with a club. His face is in a frightful condition, and he is being attended by a physician. Mayor Lawler is investigating. Tesmer has secured an attorney, and will sue for damages.

WOULD SECURE NEW LAWYER FOR LOUISE

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 9.—Intimate friends of Louis Arbogast, under indictment here on a charge of murdering his father, claim that she is being treated as a person already adjudged insane and that her counsel is managing her case without consulting her. This fact they claim is responsible for her nervousness, as she does not know what action is being taken in her behalf. They have taken under consideration the employment of counsel who will consult with her and have already taken steps toward that end.

EXCELLENT CROPS EXPECTED IN N. D.

GRAND FORKS, N. D., June 9.—State Oil Inspector Frank W. Wilson, who has been over the entire state on his inspections, is enthusiastic over the crop outlook. "We will have a splendid crop this year," he says, "if the conditions that have prevailed so far are followed with the right kind of weather. Everywhere I have gone I find the situation very satisfactory and there can be little doubt but that North Dakota is in line for a splendid harvest."

THE DAILY MARKETS

FOREIGN MARKETS

New York Stocks.

NEW YORK, June 9.—There was increased pressure in the market at the opening and the early trading. The prices of the leading issues generally showed losses ranging from fractions to over one point. The chief interest was centered in the Southern Pacific preferred with suffered material loss at the start because of liquidation of speculative holdings. The common fell 13-4, while the preferred opened off 13-4. Steel common was weak under pressure, falling one point and yielding a little more after the opening. Smelting was off one point and fractional losses were shown in B. & O., Atchafson and Erie.

11 a. m.—The market was full of selling orders for large amounts of stocks, especially in the leading active issues at the opening and all through the first hour. One broker sold 25,000 shares Steel and another 15,000 shares Southern Pacific. An incentive for the weakness, according to leading market interests was the fact that in Southern Pacific dealings a large part of the business was of an arbitrage character.

Government bonds unchanged; others firm.
 Noon.—In the last half of the forenoon the market became quiet and steady and some buying back of the stock sold at the opening caused moderate rallies. American Cotton Oil advanced over two points. Union Pacific advanced nearly two points. Reading recovered about half the loss sustained early in the day.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, June 9.—The grain market showed little change at the opening, slight gains being made by July wheat above yesterday's closing. This future opened at $1.19. Corn and oats for July started at yesterday's closing figure.
 Close July wheat closed quarter lower and September 1-8 lower. Although wheat has not gone far below yesterday's closing the market has plainly shown a heavier tone. Increasing offerings of new wheat are beginning to arrive.
 Noon.—Wheat gained a trifle during the forenoon while corn and oats remained about the same. Trade was moderate to dull.

CHANGES TODAY IN CHEESE QUOTATIONS

A General Decline in Price of Cheese

IN THE NATION'S CAPITAL

from Rhode Island was clothed with authority at the beginning of this session to appoint the committee on committees for the republican membership of the senate.

There was no statement made upon the floor by Mr. Aldrich or anyone to meet that mathematical demonstration of the falsity of the claims of the finance committee. Senator Smith, however, did not rise in his place and explain the vote he cast a few moments later on the same side as Mr. Aldrich. If the senators who were in doubt were convinced it must have been in the private talks which Senator Aldrich had with so many of the senators during Friday and Saturday. The public will never know just how the lash was applied. It must judge by results.

Aldrich's statements were so thoroughly discredited that they were laughed at and yet he was able to command the votes for a piece of legislation which adds to the value of every piece of cotton cloth in this country and will add materially to the cost of living of the average man. Senators know the facts were against him. Republicans recognized a political mistake would be made yet they blindly followed Aldrich, all but ten of them. Why?

Senator La Follette's speech was the most exhaustive exposition of a tariff schedule ever made upon the floor by one man. He had the floor for three days. It was not only a speech on cotton but it dealt generally with the tariff. Mr. La Follette's speech won't make any difference in the Aldrich program but it has had the effect of setting a good many people, including some Senators to thinking. Changed conditions need different methods to cope with them.

This was the key note of the whole La Follette argument. Time was when the only function a protective tariff was called upon to perform was to keep cheap foreign goods out of the American market and give American manufacturers a chance to make and sell. Domestic competition kept down prices of products and insured the price of labor. Home manufacturers strove for custom by trying to sell at the lowest figure that would bring the business. This kept down the price to the consumer. Employers bid against each other for the best labor and that kept the wages up. Then came the beginning of the year of trusts and monopolies. Competition ceased. Where the whole product of an industry became controlled by one set of men or interests there was no bidding for business. Instead of seeking to make the selling price low in order to get business the monopoly sought to make prices as high as possible. And prices of products went up. With only one employer there was no bidding for labor and no opportunity for labor to go elsewhere for employment in the industry. So the wages either remained stationary, went down, or increased very slowly. There was no longer any proportion regulated by the law of competition between the advance in the price of labor and of products. With domestic competition destroyed the only thing left to regulate the price of the domestic product was foreign competition. The selling price of the domestic article was restricted only by the price at which the foreign article could be put on sale in the domestic market. And this competing price was regulated by the tariff.

While competition existed in the domestic production it didn't make much difference how high the tariff might be. Competition among domestic producers kept profits down to a reasonable level. With domestic competition gone the question of how high the tariff should be became of vital importance. If a ten per cent tariff equalled the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad and the tariff was 20 per cent the home manufacturer although he could sell at a fair profit at the ten per cent advance over the foreign price was able to add eight or nine per cent more to his price without coming in competition with the foreign product and still retain a monopoly of the home market. This means unreasonable profits for the producer and the exaction of excessive prices from the consumer. And there was no redress. There is no redress so long as the tariff bars remain up.

Under the existing conditions La Follette asserted protective tariffs become a tax upon the consumer for the benefit of the combination and monopolies. To safeguard the consumer Congress must find out exactly how much protection the home monopoly needs, if any, to protect it from being destroyed by foreign competition and must give it just that much protection and no more. And while big dividends and surpluses especially if paid or based on watered stock, may be indications of excessive profit excessive prices and excessive protection in some industries, says La Follette, it is not the duty of Congress to regulate the profits of any producer, either to guarantee them or to diminish them.

A STEADY DRAIN

Sick Kidneys Weaken the Whole Body—Make You Ill, Languid and Depressed.

Sick kidneys weaken the body through the continual drainage of life-giving albumen from the blood into the urine, and the substitution of poisonous uric acid that goes broadcast through the system, sowing the seeds of disease. Loss of albumen causes weakness, languor, depression. Uric poisoning causes rheumatic pain, nervousness, nausea, cricks in the back, gravel and kidney stones. The proper treatment is a kidney treatment, and the best remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Great La Crosse cures prove it.

John B. Fries, 425 N. Ninth St., La Crosse, Wis., says: "For at least ten years my kidneys were weak and I was subject to severe attacks of backache. At times the kidney secretions also became disordered. About a year ago I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box at Erhart's drug store. This remedy relieved the difficulties promptly and my kidneys are now in a healthy condition."

What Congress needs and must have in order to wisely and honestly adjust tariff rates is exact information as to the cost of labor and other elements which enter into the cost of production. Then it must fix a tariff rate for each article that will equal the difference in cost of production here and abroad, and no more.

The country took considerable interest in the brutal assault of Senator Penrose upon Senator La Follette. Of this incident the Washington Times said editorially:

Senator La Follette conducted himself in commendable fashion when he undertook to deal with the reflections cast upon him by Senator Penrose. Those who did not know him expected that he would rave and storm and enter upon a sensational denunciation of the man who questioned his honesty and accused him of feigning illness. They were mistaken. As a matter of fact La Follette seemed to be more concerned about the manner in which he had slighted Senator Gallinger by refusing to yield the floor to him than he was about the insulting utterances of Penrose. When he finally got around to that gentleman he dealt with him in such an approved fashion that the big boss of Pennsylvania did not have a leg to stand on. He disposed of him to the entire satisfaction of himself and his friends. There are members of the Senate who without doubt do not approve of La Follette, but Penrose is the only member of that body who would deliberately question his honesty. Abuse from that quarter has no terror for La Follette. It is well that he saw fit to restrain himself. Nothing could be more effective than the manner in which he handled the situation.

"As to the remarks of the Senator from Pennsylvania," said La Follette, "I would suggest that he would render a more important service to the country, to the Senate, and to the state of Pennsylvania if he would account for the way he spends his time when outside of this chamber than by attacking me."

AMERICAN GUNNERS WOULD RETRIEVE

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9.—Everyone interested in indoor rifle shooting is disappointed at the showing made by the American team against the British and Australians in the three-cornered International indoor match with .22 calibre rifles. The match was shot with fifty men on a side, and the British beat the Americans with a score of 14,583 against the American score of 14,179. The average per man on the American team was 283 and on the English team was 291. The Australian scores have not yet been received, but it is very improbable that they defeated the English team. It was a clean victory for the Englishmen because the National Rifle association took great pains to select the best available shots in this country. The American team, however, was hurriedly got together and in most instances the men shot without any considerable systematic preliminary practice. They also used a style of target with which many of them were unfamiliar. The match goes to show that at present, at least, England shows a greater development than America in holding, aiming and pulling for which the .22 calibre rifle is very valuable as a means of instruction and practice. The defeat of the American team will undoubtedly tend to stimulate further the general interest in this important feature of rifle practice as the match will be shot again next year, and strenuous efforts will be made to carry off the prize. The continental countries will be invited to take part in the match next year, and it is believed the list of entries will be considerably larger. The Americans will begin work in the autumn and a team of 75 to 100 will be selected to practice until shortly before the match is shot, and from this number a team of fifty will be finally chosen.

Under the existing conditions La Follette asserted protective tariffs become a tax upon the consumer for the benefit of the combination and monopolies. To safeguard the consumer Congress must find out exactly how much protection the home monopoly needs, if any, to protect it from being destroyed by foreign competition and must give it just that much protection and no more. And while big dividends and surpluses especially if paid or based on watered stock, may be indications of excessive profit excessive prices and excessive protection in some industries, says La Follette, it is not the duty of Congress to regulate the profits of any producer, either to guarantee them or to diminish them.

Important Court Decisions

LIABILITY OF RAILROAD FOR DEATH OF ENGINEER CAUSED BY COLLISION WITH COW. A Tennessee statute provides that railroad companies shall be liable for all stock killed unless their tracks are properly fenced. In Gill v. Louisville & N. R. Co., 145 Federal Reporter, 438, an action was brought to recover for the death of an engineer caused by the collision with a cow which had come upon the track because of a deficient or absent fence. It was averred that the death was due wholly to the carelessness and negligence of the defendant in failing to erect and maintain a fence. The United States Circuit Court held that neither the common law nor the statute imposed any liability for the death of its employees caused by an unfenced track.

School Board and Public Officials Decide on Plan—Booth Contracts Let—Many Repairs

Election booths and drinking fountains occupied the attention of members of the school board and city officials Monday, six of them making the entire round of the public schools. The party consisted of Commissioner Schnell of the board of public works, City Engineer Geo. Bradish, President Lueking, L. F. Easton and Otto Loeffler of the school board and Superintendent of Schools John P. Bird.

As a result of the visit, contracts have been let for the installation of voting booths in the following schools: Sixteenth and Vine, Third district, Redfield. Voting booths have already been established in the high school and two of the north side schools.

To Install Fountains This work disposed of, the party took up the matter of drinking fountains, which has been held up for some time waiting experimentation with a new style of fountain invented by John League, chief janitor of the schools. This fountain has been installed in the Seventh district school for some time, and investigation has satisfied the authorities that it is superior to any fountain now on the market, and that it can be made specially for the school board at a considerable saving over the prices quoted on other standard fountains. The fountains will be installed in all of the public schools in the La Crosse system.

The "deadly drinking cup" was given dishonorable mention in the lecture Saturday night on tuberculosis by Harvey Dee Brown, whose remarks stimulated interest in the removal of that source of disease dissemination in the public schools here.

The party took occasion in the course of its trip to go over with the janitor all improvements and repairs recommended by him in the grammar schools, and it was stated at the conclusion of the trip that while no extensive building would be done, changes in improvements will be necessitated in every one of the public schools.

COULDN'T SPRING TWESME "BOOST"

Senate Spiked Story of Young Fellow's "Triumph" by Killing His "Great" Election Law

STORY IN TYPE, PHOTO TOO

Stephenson Papers Counted Their Chickens Before they Were Hatched and Then Scowled

MADISON, Wis., June 9.—(Special)—A good story is going around at the expense of Assemblyman A. T. Twesme, of Trempealeau county, who defeated ex-Speaker Ekern for the assembly in his district, in the last campaign which was notorious for the use of money and for its bitterness.

It seems that the Stephenson men, desiring to reward Twesme and strengthen him for future contests with Ekern, have been attaching his name to bills which would bring him into prominence and which they regarded as popular. One of these "Twesme" bills was the bill, recently defeated, in which it was provided that tickets of the various parties in the primaries should be printed in separate colors, and that voters must name the party for which they proposed to vote upon entering the booth. While ostensibly designed to prevent democrats voting in the republican primaries, it is palpable that the purpose of the bill was to enable bosses to check the voters and keep track of their politics, and also coerce them into voting any ticket the leaders desired.

The Twesme bill passed the assembly by a large majority and the Stephenson men had it doped out that it would go through the senate with flying colors. Therefore, it is said, the leading Stephenson papers had prepared in advance long stories "boosting" Twesme as the author of the great measure, to be published when the bill passed the senate, together with large photographs of the author.

On the day that the bill came up in the senate Mr. Twesme and his friends were waiting in evident anticipation of the culmination of his great "victory," and the Stephenson men in the senate were confident and exuberant. The roll was called on the bill. "No!" "No!" "No!" "No!" Down the line in a succession of "No's" went the roll call, and the final vote on the measure was 18 to 5, with one man who would have voted "No" absent. Long faces prevailed about the capitol that evening, and the big "write ups" failed to appear in the Stephenson papers.

PARIS, June 8.—Mr. and Mrs. E. Harriman, accompanied by Alex. Miller, arrived here at noon today.

GOLD MEDAL FLOUR

The Boy Told the Truth

Justice Brewer of the United States supreme court says that it is usually an easy matter to pick out the truth among a lot of conflicting evidence. By way of illustration he tells the following incident which took place in a little village near New York:

"A house hunter, who had just got off the train, stepped up to a boy hanging around the depot, with this salutation: "My lad, I am looking for Mr. Smithson's new block of semidetached houses. How far are they from here?"

"About twenty minutes," was the boy replied.

"Twenty minutes!" exclaimed the house hunter. "Nonsense! The advertisement says five."

"Well," said the boy, "you can believe me or you can believe the advertisement, but I ain't tryin' to make a sale."—Judge.

"A Home of One's Own Makes a Man Human"

Some great writer knew what he was talking about, there's nothing increases a man's happiness.

Many young men hesitate because they think—THINK mind you—they can't give their sweetheart a pleasant home. They are wrong. Any honest young man who is employed can have a home just as well as not. Our easy plan will work for any man. Bring your sweetheart or wife with you and let's talk it over. You'll be glad if you do.
